To Whom It May Concern

I have had the privilege of working with Angie for the past year. She has been wonderful to work with and her work ethic and sense of humor in the face of work related adversity has been inspiring. No matter how busy she was, she was responsive to my requests and found time to work on at least three major national focused targeted marketing campaigns that resulted in a noticeable increase of leads resulting in increased sales.

She was also responsible for a large number of my projects being highlighted in various forms to increase customer leads. The end results of those projects were both professional and succinct. Angie worked in an extremely stressful environment with little professionalism or direction from supervisors and yet she always sallied forth and completed projects on time and with faithful dedication. I am proud to have worked with her and if I was in a position with the responsibility of hiring, I would hire Angie in short order because she is that good of an employee and will be a valued asset to any team.

Please feel free to call for any additional questions or elaboration of her past duties and accomplishments. Like I said previously, I wish I could hire her back because she was the only productive member of a greatly mismanaged marketing team.

Sincerely,
